WALDORF WEEKLY

April 17th 2022

Thank you Mr. Mitsching!

We said goodbye to Mr. Scott Mitsching on Friday of last week. He has been around campus observing and teaching in class six and class one over the last month and a half, as well as other classes too. Scott chose to intern in Alaska from Antioch University to complete his final requirements for Waldorf Certification and achieve his professional teaching goals. Shannon Herda served as his mentor and Scott was able to contribute so much to our students in our time together, we hope to see him again in Alaska!

GRADE 2/3

Congratulations to 2/3 for completing their play: The Snow Queen! They did a fantastic job! 2/3 also had a great time out in the Bog exploring the woods, fishing for ice sheets, and racing each other in a sprint. On Monday 2/3 starts their final math block: Money! The children are super excited and can't wait to get started.

GRADE 4/5

As part of their Greek mythology block, Grade 4/5 has been spending part of their mornings doing a physical training circuit that includes jogging around the neighborhood, jumping rope, and balance beam challenges. The students are enthralled with the stories of the Greek gods and goddesses. The class has also been busy creating their class project.

GRADE 6

Dear community,

You might see class six students picking up trash around campus, teaching music to other students, helping faculty in specific topics, cleaning out the green house and garden area, perhaps delivering gluten free goodies to faculty over the next month and more. They are all embarking on their path to knighthood. During this time each student is encouraged to give of themselves to others and to learn something as they do this. On the evening of May 15th they all hope to be knighted at Manitoba cabin if they achieve their goals! The class also recently enjoyed an outing to Frosted Axe Throwing to really experience some Medieval fun.
